Targum Yonatan on Ezekiel

Chapter 1

And it came to pass in the year of the death of Hilkiah, that there was a great multitude of the Torah in the house of Makkedah, in the house of Ezer, in the house of the scholars, in the divisions of the night, in the mount of Maaleni, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of the tribe of Judah, in the month of Tammuz, in the fifth month of Jericho, that the prophet said, And I was in the midst of the children of Galut, by the river Kebar.
Open the sky and see the vision of the prophet, this is the service of the prophet, dear, your dwelling is like a day.
In the fifth month of Jericho, the fifth day of the month, King Jehoiachin was a prophet from the beginning, and he was with Ezekiel son of Buzi, the priest in the land of Israel, in the city of Tinan, and he was a prophet with his people in the land of the Chaldeans, on the river Chebar, and he was a prophet of the Lord, a prophet from the beginning.
Alaula came to me from the top of the cloud, a great cloud, and Ishta from the flame, and the splendor of it was like a trade: trade and from the pineapple and from the apple tree, like an eye of lightning from the apple tree.
And the body of the four beasts, and the judgment of their vision, the blood of a man, shall be as it were.
And four aphids for a heifer and four aphids for each one and one heifer for a And five and thirty-three

And the feet of the ephod were like the feet of a heron, and the span of the feet of the ephod was like the span of a falcon, and the girdle of the ephod was like the span of a falcon, and the girdle of the ephod was like the girdle From the coast of Sarpiya to the east, on the site of Atar Rashiya, to Abada Hayyya, beyond Memriah, and their slopes and slopes equal to four of them.
: They are set one by one to receive one by one, their faces do not return to their original state to receive a new one, their faces are like a human face and a lion's face, a servant from the right to the four, and a servant from the left to the four, and a servant from the right to the four, and a servant from the left to the four.
:And the aphids and the gnats shall depart from the land of the aphids, and the aphids shall be scattered

The similarity of the Bari'ahs is that they were seen as the end of the day in the wilderness, as they saw in Uriah that a flame would burn among the Bari'ahs: and the brightness of the fire would be seen, and from the fire the sky would be seen.
A And the Bariyat of Eshtalchut for the worship of the Lord's flock, the second part of the Tabernacle of the Lord on Mount Elah, from the side of Anaf: Ainah for the tents of Hezron and Maqpan and Maqsan Yat Alma, and they will understand the Bariyat as a single and as a light as the tent of Barakah.
And he saw a pillar of Bariath, and there was a pillar of Bariath, one from the east of Milra, to the east of Shemiah, in the pillar of Bariath, for the four corners of the mouth of the pillar of Gilgal, and their pillars were like the stone of Taba, and their pillars were like the four corners of the pillar of Gilgal, and their pillars and their pillars were like the four corners of the pillar of Gilgal.
:On the four lines of their fate, they are exhausted, and they do not return to their fate.
And their heights are equal to the Qiblah of the sky and Rome to them, and they are rejected without a trace, and their heights are from their eyes, turning to the right: to their four corners.
And from Meizal, Bariat, Azlin, Galgalia, to receive them, and from Atramah, Bariat, in Milra, to Rome, from Shemya, from Tarmin: to Galgalia, on the site of the river of Taman, Ra'ava, to Meizal, Azlin, to Taman, Ra'ava, to Meizal and Galgalia, from Tarmin, to receive them: and I will give you the spirit of Bariat, in Galgalia, in Meizal, Azlin, and from their place. They arose and went up as if from the heavens to Rome, from Mount Galgalia: to receive them with the spirit of Bariata at Galgalia.
And blood on the heads of the Bariata, the sky is like a shield, impervious to fire, leaning on the heads of the Bariata, and the sky is covered with a veil, prepared for the reception

And you heard the sound of their voices, like the sound of a river, like the sound of a river from before, like the sound of a river from before, like the sound of their voices

And at the time when Deborah the prophetess went before me to hear my servants the prophets of Israel, I heard a voice from above the firmament, from between the cherubims, from the firmament above their heads, from their places, and from the firmament above their heads, as it were a stone of Taba, as the color of a cherub. And on the example of Kursia, a parable: When a man sees a woman, my God, from the depths of the earth, and you see like a flash of lightning, when a woman sees a man from the depths of the earth, there is a market for it, When Ishta and Zihora saw her, they were like a merchant,

Chapter 2

And he said unto me, Son of man, arise, stand upon thy feet, and I will afflict thy people.
And you brought a spirit into me by night, and set me on my feet, and you heard me as if I were speaking to you.
And I said unto me, Son of man, I will send thee unto the children of Israel, and unto Ammiah the son of Sarvan, which hath rebelled against my commandments: Inon and Abathon have rebelled against my commandments unto the day of the LORD: and from the house of Benia, Inon, the gate of Apia, and the gates of Leba, I will send thee unto Vathon, and the gate of Tikvah shall be destroyed:
thus saith the LORD God. And if they accept the sword and refrain from the sins of the lions of the people, they will refuse and know this: A prophet has been among them.
And you, son of man, do not turn away from their signs and do not turn away from those who refuse and make it difficult for you to accept them, and the people of Deubadihon are like a scorpion to the serpent. You will not turn away from their signs and do not turn away from their ancestors. But you will not turn away from their signs and do not turn away from their ancestors. But you will not turn away from the people who refuse and make it difficult for you to accept them. And you will not turn away from the people who refuse and make it difficult for you to accept them. And if they refrain from killing the people's lions: they refuse, they refuse.
And thou, son of man, receive me, I will speak with thee: be not a rebellious people, as a rebellious people, when thy soul is ashamed: and receive me, I will love thee.
And I saw, and behold, a hand stretched out by my side, and in it was a roll of a book, opened before me, and it was written from the front and from the back, What is the matter with the people of Judah, and what is the matter with the people of Judah? And it was written in it, If the house of Israel transgress against the law, they shall reign in the house of Ammiah, and if they shall serve the law, Joseph will continue to be a prophet to Elijah and to David and to the people.

Chapter 3

And he said unto me, Son of man, thou art a man of great worth, and thou hast a great reward: what is written in the book of the covenant? And I went and prophesied, saying, Concerning the house of Israel.
"And you, O my soul, and my brethren, what is written in the scroll of the book?"
And he said unto me, Son of man, thy soul shall be filled with joy, and with thee shall it be fulfilled, if thou receive what is written in the book of the covenant, which is with me: The LORD will go unto thee, and thou shalt receive it, and behold, it shall be a sign in my mouth, as a sign in my mouth. And he said unto me, Son of man, thou shalt go down to the children of Israel, and thou shalt prophesy unto them in the signs of my prophecies.
:I will not go with a people of deep sorrow and love to sleep. I will send a prophet to the house of Israel.
Do not go with the blind, the wise

Do you love the house of your father, as the house of Receive in your heart and in your mind, hear.

And you, O Ezel, will go with the sons of the redeemed, with the sons of your people, and you will give to the poor and will beg for the poor, as the judge said: God, if they will accept a bribe and if they will refrain from sinning,
And the Spirit took me, and I heard the voice of the Lord, the Lamb of God, singing praises and saying, "Blessed are you, O Lord, from the place of the house of Shekinah." And the limbs of the Bariata were struck one by one, and the Calvary of Calvary was cut off for their reception, and the Calvary of Calvary was cut off.
:And the Spirit took me and surrounded me and made me bitter by the beating of my spirit, and it was prophesied from before that it would be an attack on me.

And I will go with the children of Galut to Tel Aviv, which is by the river Chebar, and I will dwell among them, and they shall not understand: Teman, and I will dwell among them, and they shall be silent for seven days among them.

:And it shall be the end of seven days, and it shall be the fulfillment of the prophecy from before, and it shall be with me for a time.

Son of man, I will bring you to the house of Israel, and you shall receive from the judgments of the pit, and you shall warn them from their former sins, as the admonition for the day of death, and not for the day of warning, nor for the night day of for the warning, but for the day of judgment: for the day of judgment is the judgment, and for You have warned me, and I will not return from my debts and from my debts, and I will not return I will follow

And you, O Lord, have warned the righteous, rather than the sinners of the righteous, and he is not a sinner, O Lord, I will be glorified: and you, O Lord, have given your soul to be saved.

And the spirit of prophecy came upon me from before, saying, Arise, go down to Baca, and Taman, I will be with you all night. And you arose and went down to Baca, and behold, Taman cried out, saying, I saw a great river, and I saw it, and I fell on my face. And you put a spirit in me, and set me on my feet, and I slept with you all night. And I said, I will make a covenant with you in your house. And you, son of man, have cut off the bones of the people of the land, and you shall go as a forbidden thing, and you shall not be disobedient among them: and your tongue shall be adept at rubbing and be silent, and you shall not be a fool, a man of might, a lion of a rebellious people, a man of no understanding.

And in my affliction with you I will humble your soul and you will be like a judge. I said, O God, accept, accept, refrain, refrain from the sins of a rebellious people, they will not accept. : Olfan and the

Chapter 4

And thou, son of man, turn thee about, and cast thyself before thee, and cast a pillar upon the wall of Jerusalem: and thou shalt cast a pillar upon the wall, and thou shalt build the pillar upon the wall of the city, and thou shalt make the pillar of the house of the LORD thy God. And thou shalt make the pillar of the house of the LORD thy God a pillar of gold, and thou shalt make the pillar of the house of the LORD thy God a pillar of gold, and the pillar of the house of the LORD thy God an ephod, and the pillar of the house of the LORD thy God an ephod, and the pillar of the house of the LORD thy God a pillar of gold

And thou shalt make a wall of iron between thee and thee, and thou shalt make a wall of iron between thee and thee, and thou shalt make thy wall of iron between thee and thee: and thou shalt be a scoundrel, and thou shalt make a high place for the house of Israel: and thou shalt lie upon thy bed, and shalt make the house of Israel a house of Israel. O Lord, from the day of thy death thou shalt lie down: O Lord, accept the house of their house.

And I will give you a hundred shekels of silver, and you shall pay them seven days, and you shall receive them: the shekels of the house of Israel.

And thou shalt be a widow, and shalt lie down upon thy bed, and shalt receive the debt of the house of Judah: forty days, a day for a drink, a day for a drink, and thou shalt be a widow.

And to build Jerusalem, you shall fix your face, and your branches shall be cut down, and you shall bring forth a high place, and you shall prune the branches of your trees as a hedge of thorns, and you shall not be moved from your scepter to your scepter until your death, all the days of your captivity.

And you shall bring to you wheat, and barley

And the water of Michalah thou shalt drink, as one drinketh of the water of Hina from Eden unto Eden: and the water of the river shall be a river of water, and it shall be upon the banks of the river My soul is not a wanderer, nor a beggar, nor a coward, nor a glutton And there is water by his side, and in his thirst they shall drink: for he shall lack the treasure of my temple and my seat, and shall seek a man and a brother, and shall be consumed in their debts.

Chapter 5

And you, son of man, have a sword, a spear

A You will light a lamp in the midst of the city, like the days of the plague, and you will turn back, you will kill with the sword of your merchant. And they shall be glad, and shall be slain with the sword of the Agarites in their tents.

And thou shalt turn from the little ostrich into a bird, and shalt cover the ostrich with thy wings, and from the ostrich thou shalt turn again, and shalt make the ostrich a terrible thing, and shalt make the ostrich a terrible thing: therefore shalt thou pour out thy wrath upon all the house of Israel.

And I will make my judgments known to those who love them from among my people, and my judgments from among the nations, which I have made in my marketplace: in my judgments they were bound, and in my judgments they did not walk in vain.

Therefore I said, O God, let the people of Israel, who are in the market place, not walk in my statutes: and my judgments, you shall not do, and the customs of the people of Israel, you shall not do in the market place.

Therefore I said, O God, I will send a plague upon you, and I will deal with you in your nations: judgments in the sight of the people: and I will deal with you in your midst, and you shall not serve me, and I will serve you with your oppressions, until all your abominations are past.

Therefore the fathers shall be ashamed of their fathers, and the children shall be ashamed of their fathers, and I will work in thee: I will destroy the judgments, and I will destroy all the glory of thy people for every spirit. Therefore I will say, O God, if my sanctuary is not defiled with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations: and I will even cut off the scepter of thy walls. And I will not spare, nor will I have mercy.

A You will be hanged by the sword, your merchants will be killed, and you will be hanged by the sword.

:To every soul I have destroyed and destroyed in the sword of the Agares in the land of Trihon

And the beginning of my furrows, and I will set my face in a place of honor, and I will gather, and they will know that I am a shepherd in my flocks and herds: so the beginning of my furrows in honor

And I will make you a desolation and a curse among the nations, in your merchandise in the sight of all my enemies.

And they shall be for mercy and for the multitude of thy people, and I will make them to be a burden to thy merchants, as I will be a servant in thee: they shall judge in anger, and in wrath, and in the time of wrath: I will cut off my judgments in my judgments: they shall be under a corner, they shall be covered with a cloth, they shall be bound in a rope, which I will send, they shall be bound in a rope: and they shall be bound in a rope. I will add a note and I will prepare a meal from the prison.

And I will send a plague of locusts, and a plague of locusts, and they shall devour thee, and the dead and the slain shall be in thy midst, and they shall be cut off: with the sword will I come upon thee, and thou shalt be cut off in my sight.

Chapter 6

And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.

The Son of Man received a prophecy about the tribes of Israel and the prophets of Elah.

And the children of Israel shall say, The LORD hath spoken a word unto the children of Israel, saying, O LORD, unto Torah, and unto Ramah, and unto Pazidiah, and unto Hilkiah, I will slay the dead of Elikon, and I will slay them in the sword, and I will destroy them in Mathikon.

And they shall smite Agorechon, and Ithban Hanisanachon, and the armies of Kettilechon, before them, the hindmost part of the children of Israel, before them, the hindmost part of their hindmost part: and I will destroy the hindmost part of Germechon, the merchants of Agorechon, in all the cities of the cities of Karva, and they shall be destroyed: and when Ithban shall be destroyed, he shall be destroyed, and Ithban shall be destroyed. And it shall be revealed: and their iniquities shall be destroyed, and their omens shall be gathered, and their labors shall be blessed.

And they will be destroyed among the people, and they will know that I am the Lord.

And I will remain in the wilderness, to be a sword-wielding man among the people, in the midst of the city, in the midst of the city.

And I will remember that I have entered among the people of Amaya, and that they will go to Taman, and that they will see the face of the LORD To work for the sake of money, to be sure.

And the LORD said, O God, clap your hand and strike your foot, and say, And over all your abominations in the house of Israel, Israel shall be scattered abroad, and shall die by the sword; and he that is near shall be slain by the sword, and shall be cut off

And the lions of Ana shall know that I am in the midst of their destruction, in the midst of their iniquity, in the midst of their merchandise, in all Ramah, which is polluted with all the branches of Torah, under every thick-set ram, and under every unclean thing that is defiled, in the place of his gold: Teman is a sacrifice to burn for all their iniquity, and the lions shall be under my mighty power, and I will cause them to be afraid beside him. And I will fill them with the wilderness of Deblat in all: they shall understand and know that I am he.

Chapter 7

And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.

And thou, son of man, shalt thou say, O God, to the house of Israel, a bed of pestilence Your ways are against you, and your abominations are against you: in your nations the LORD shall be, and you shall know that I am he: for I said, O God, I have brought you to a place of rest, I have brought you to a place of rest: I have brought you to a place of rest, I have brought you to a place of rest, I have brought you to a place of rest.

The day of judgment is near, the A man will understand the duties of his soul from the devil and even to judgment: they will stand in righteousness and not be offended.

We will open the door with a loud cry, we will fix it with the semen of fornication, and we will let the blood of our relatives flow, but I will be angry with you from before, above all: you will be angry.

A sword from the mouth of the Lord and a sword from the mouth of the Lord, and a sword from the mouth of the Lord, and a sword from the mouth of the Lord, and a sword from the mouth of the Lord:

And the people of Israel will be like the birds of the air, like the birds of the sea And the pride of the poor shall be as their pride, and their pride shall not be able to make them happy: in the day of their wrath their souls shall not be satisfied, and their journeys shall not be in vain: but they shall be a burden to the debtors.

And the joy of her repair is dear to her beloved ones, and there are no images of their abominations, whose thorns serve in her house. Therefore: her beloved ones are for wealth and for trouble.

And I will deliver them into the hands of the righteous for plunder and for the lovers of the land, for my sake and for my sake.

And I will cleanse my tabernacle from the curse upon its threshold; when I shall see the house of my tabernacle, and the righteous shall shine in it: and its windows shall be a servant of the LORD: I shall see the fullness of the righteous, and the gates shall be full of the captives.

And I will bring upon the children of Ammon, and they shall be gathered together in their tents: and I will destroy the multitude of the righteous, and they shall be gathered together in their sanctuaries.

:You will observe the Sabbath and the Sabbath day and night.

I will be like a pillar on a pillar, and like a pillar on a pillar, and a wolf will be like a book, and fear will cease from the priests: and a king will be like a watchman.

The king will mourn, and the great one will put on his robe, and the hands of the people of Daraa will be terrified because of their shame and their oppression. And I will turn away their shame from their shame, and they will know that I am the Lord.

Chapter 8

And it came to pass, when I was in the fifth day of the month of Jericho, that the prophet said, I will dwell in my house, and in the house of my fathers: Judah shall understand before me, and the spirit of prophecy shall be upon me from before, O God, and thou shalt see, and it shall be as if he had seen it, and he shall see it, and it shall be as if he had seen The vision of Ishta and the vision of Yakar, the dear one, the eye of the visionary, and the one who cannot be seen,

And I will stretch out my hand and I will be with you in the hair of my head, and you will take my hand, a spirit between the earth and the sky, and you the will lift my hand to Jerusalem in the field of prophecy, which you have preached to me from before, and in our way, a fearsome spirit, an open door to north, and behold: a beautiful shadow, a jealous one, a scorner

And behold, the precious God of Israel, as I saw in the valley,

And he said unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes to the east, and lift up mine eyes to the east, and behold, the shadow of thy jealousy is come, and the

In the wilderness of Ma'dan, I saw a vision, and I said to myself, "Son of man, what is the judgment of the servant of the Lord, the ruler of the land of Israel, the servant of the Lord?" He said, "To go far from the sanctuary, and yet you shall not return, O Lord, the ruler of the land." And I will go to the city of Darata, and you will see, and there is a great terror in the city.

And he said unto me, Son of man, gird up a loincloth, and dig in the loincloth, and behold, one

And he said to me, "Ow, and behold, you will be abominable in the land of Egypt, and the judgment of the servants will come."

And you went up and saw, and behold, all the idols of the house of Israel were carved on the wall of the house of Israel, and the seven elders of the house of Israel, and Yazaniah the son of Shaphan, stood among their councils, standing before them, and a man: she had a lamp in her hand, and she was a cloud of smoke, a clear lamp.

Therefore, I will judge, and say, O God, I will slay them with a sword, and they shall be as a slain man, and they shall be as a slain man: and they shall be as a slain man: and they shall be as a slain man, And the scepter shall be set in the hand of the wicked, and the rod shall be set in the hand of the wicked, and I will execute judgments in the wilderness: in the wilderness thou shalt be slain upon the border of Israel, and thou shalt be cut off from the hand of the wicked, and thou shalt know that I am he. She shall not be as a widow in Ramah, she shall be as a widow in the wilderness, in the wilderness of the wilderness, in the wilderness of Israel. I will repay you in full.
And you shall know that I am your God, and that you have not fulfilled my statutes, and that you have not served my laws, and that you have not served my people according to their customs:
in the marketplaces you have served them.
And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died, and I fell on my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Accept my iniquity, O God of hosts, and I will serve with the people of Israel.
And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.
Son of man, your brother, your neighbor, and all the house of Israel, the whole The house of the sanctuary shall be like a small city, and the city of Medina shall be like a city of idols, and the city of Judah shall be like a city of idols. And the city of Judah You are abhorrent to me.

And I will give them a contrite heart, and a contrite spirit, I will give them in their hearts, and I will make their hearts a heart of stone, and they shall be as a stone in their hearts: and I will give them a contrite heart, and they shall be as a stone in their hearts:

And they took the cherubim, the sons of Gibeon, and the sons of Gilgal, to receive them, and the God of Israel was exalted above Elah:
and he removed the cherubim from the city of Karta, and he put them on the tower of Zeta, which was called Karta.
And the Spirit took me up and brought me to the city of Ar'a of the Chaldeans, to the children of Galut, in the vision of the Spirit of prophecy: "You have spoken against me from before, and I will depart from you, O prophet, I have prophesied."
And I will declare to the sons of Galut, that all my enemies will be my enemies.

Son of man, in the body of a rebellious people, you will answer me, my eyes are for a fortune, for a visionary but not a seer, and for a fortune, for a hearer but not a hearer, but for a rebellious people, no.
And you, son of man, I will make you a manna of oil, and a bottle of water in their sight, and you shall pour out your oil from one place to another in their sight: in their sight shall the waters enter, but the people refuse to drink: and you shall pour out your oil as a manna of oil in their sight, and you shall pour out your oil in their sight, as the bottles of oil are poured out. In their sight, you shall go to the temple and open your mouth.
In their sight, you shall lift up your face to the altar. You shall cover your mouth and not prophesy. You shall see me, and you shall love me: to the house of Israel.
And you shall serve as you have commanded, from whom you have redeemed, from whom you have redeemed, and in the morning and in the evening you shall serve me in the tabernacle: with your hand in the tabernacle you shall receive upon your shoulder, you shall bear it in my sight with a trumpet for a trumpet: and this is the fulfillment of the prophecy that was spoken before: Son of man, if the house of Israel should speak to you, a people that refuse, what servant would you be?
I said to the king, "O God, against Rabbah, the burden of Nebo, which is in Jerusalem and in all the house of Israel, is this: Judgement among them."

And Rabbah, the chief of the council, will carry it on his shoulder, he will carry it in the rabbi's house, he will compete with the people in the house of his mouth: he will cover the passing of the day, and he will not foresee the coming of the day.
And my high places shall be broken up, and my nets shall be joined together, and my vessels shall be carried to Babylon, to the land of the Chaldeans: and it shall not be seen, and Taman shall be destroyed: and all my merchandise, my food, and all my servants shall be destroyed: and they shall know that I am like unto my vessels. They will be among the people, and I will be destroyed. They will be in Medina.
And I will leave a man of God, a man of war, a man of war, and a man of death, in the midst of the wilderness, and in all their abominations: in the midst of the wilderness they will be revealed to the people, and they will know that I am the Lord: and the prophecy that was prophesied from before was fulfilled, and it was with me to the end.

Therefore, as a man of my people, I will repay the debt of the house of Israel, saying, O God, be good to my worshipers, and I will be faithful: from the debt of the worshiper of sin, and there shall be no more to be found guilty.
I will keep him far from all the debts of the house of Israel, and he will serve him with a broken heart and a sick spirit. And why: you will die, O house of Israel?
"But I will not see death, nor will I be forced to die." He said, "O God, be gracious to my servant, and I will live."

Chapter 19

And you shall appoint Elijah over the elders of Israel.
And it shall be said, What did Israel drink, that it should be a day of bloodshed, between Malchijah Rabbah and Sheltoniah Rabiah: Benaiah

And Rabiath, one of her sons, became a king, and a commander to kill, kill, kill, kill, kill.
And the Lord heard him, and the people were gathered together, and he brought them together in chains, to the time of the Egyptians.
And I saw the lions of the land of Abad, and Rabiat, one of the sons of Malcha, the king of Sheva.
And he went to the city of Malchijah, and he was a warrior, a murderer, a murderer of men.
And by the side of her children, and her habitations, I will destroy her, and her sacrifices, and she shall be filled with the rod of the LORD.
And they shall prepare a mount of the Ammianites, a mount of the Ammianites, a mount of the Ammianites, and shall spread it out from Madina, and shall

When Israel sat in the temple, she saw a body of blood, like a body of water, planted on a fountain of the image of a sapphire: and a tabernacle of linen, she planted on a river of gold.
And behold, in it rulers shall be rulers, and kings shall be mighty men to serve their king, and they shall see in their kingdoms: and they shall prevail in their kingdoms, under the shadow of their might, and they shall be uprooted from time to time, from house to house, and afterward they shall be brought back, and their king shall go around like a whirlwind: the slayer of his people shall shake him, and the glory of his dominion shall be seen. He will be like a woman who is about to be killed: and like a woman who is about to be killed in the wilderness, in the wilderness of Zadok and Horeb, and he will be like a woman who is about to be killed by her enemies, and he will not be able to rule over her: a king is a mighty man, a king is a servant, and he said, "The prophet Elijah came to you." And it was Elijah's turn.

Chapter 20

And it came to pass in the fifth month of the month of Asra, that the prophet said unto him, The elders of Israel shall be gathered together, saying, Ulpan shall be before them, and he shall bear fruit before me.
And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.
Son of man, I will be a prophet to the fathers of Israel, and I will say to them, "I will say to you, O God, who did not send a wolf before me: You are the one who is standing, and I will ask you to be my judge." I will say to you, O God: "The one who is standing will be standing." The one who is standing, O son of man, you will say to the father of the standing, "The one who is standing will be standing."

And Tamar said to the king, "In that day I will visit Israel, and will arise to visit the seed of Jacob, and will reveal myself to the oppressed in the land of Egypt, and will arise to visit them in the land of Egypt: I, the Lord, will arise in that day to visit them in the land of Egypt, and will arise to visit them in the land of Egypt, and will arise to visit them in the land of Egypt: I, the Lord, will arise in that day to visit them in the land of Egypt, and will arise to visit them in the land of Egypt, and will arise to visit them in the land of Egypt: I, the Lord, will arise in that day to visit them in the land of Egypt, and will arise to visit them in the land of Egypt, and will arise to visit them in the land of Egypt: I, the Lord, will arise in that day to visit them in the land of Egypt, and will arise to visit them in the land of Egypt: Demzirim to the event of Dihabit to the capital: Abda Aleppo and Dabash Tushcha is for all Medina

And I said to the man, "I will put away my abominations from the sight of my eyes, and I will not see the iniquity of my enemies: I am the God of Israel."
And they refused my commandments, and did not listen to my prophets, the abominations of their eyes, I did not remove, and they worshiped the idols of the Egyptians, I did not look back, and I said to the Egyptians, "I will pour out my blood on them, and I will spread my robe in the midst of the land: I will bring the Egyptians and serve them in a way that is not pleasing to me, but in the sight of my people, I will not be ashamed among them." I have revealed: to open their eyes, to close their eyes, to close their eyes from the evil of the Egyptians.

And the house of Israel rebelled against my commandments in the wilderness; in my statutes they did not walk, and my judgments were broken, if they should serve.

ÿÿ Let a man be wise and live in the light of the life of a virgin, and let the days of his life be filled with the days of his return. Let him be a man of wisdom, and let him be a man of wisdom, and let him be a man of wisdom.

My anger was kindled against them in the wilderness for their transgression.

And you shall serve me in a manner that will not be diminished in the sight of the blind, in their sight.

And I have also fulfilled my promise to be rich in the desert, not poor, but rich, and to be a servant of my people: milk and honey shall be praised throughout her kingdom, and my laws shall be fulfilled, and my days shall not be filled with riches, and my days shall be filled with my days: a feast of praise shall be offered to my people.

And the children of Israel were delivered from their bondage, and their bondage was no more, a terrible thing in the wilderness.

And thou shalt say unto the children of Israel, In the wilderness, in the border of the fathers, Thou shalt not build, and thou shalt not pollute their statutes: and thou shalt not be ashamed of their idols: I am the LORD thy God in the days of their journey, and the days of their judgments shall be their statutes, and their service shall be theirs:

and in the days of their return, I will sanctify my days, and they shall be a covenant between me and them, that they may know that I am he. :God is omnipotent

And they rebelled against my decrees, and did not walk in my statutes, and did not keep my judgments. For the servant shall dwell in the land of Egypt, and the servant shall dwell in the land of Egypt, and he shall live in honor in the life of a virgin. In the days of my return, my words shall be heard, and I will say to him: I have seen my face, and I will send my sheep in honor in the wilderness, and I will answer you, and you shall serve me under my power, and you shall serve me in the wilderness. My name is Badil Dala, it will begin in the eyes of the blind, it will be a sign: it will be in their eyes

I have fulfilled my word to dwell in the wilderness, to be a stranger among the people, and to be a stranger among the heathen: in the city my judgments shall pass, and they shall not serve me, and in my judgments they shall be fulfilled, and in the days of my return my words shall be heard, and the iniquity of their fathers shall be cut off: their eyes shall be opened.

And even if they rebel against my commandments and do not accept the Kabbalah of my prophets, they will be destroyed and their secrets will be destroyed by the hand of those who hate them and will cut them off, and their work will be cut off and their customs will not be established: in vain.

And the enemy shall dwell in the midst of the land, and in the land of Abraham, and in every place And they shall give it to the LORD, and they shall see all Ramah taken away, and all Ilan overgrown, and they shall take Taman, the place of their sacrifice, and they shall make Taman the place of their sacrifice, and they shall make Taman a place of their sacrifice: and they shall say to the LORD, What is this that thou hast given to Taman, that thou hast sinned against it, and I will call it a place of their sacrifice until the day of judgment? Therefore say to the house of Israel, Judge I said, O God, the Father, I will make you a burden, and a burden to bear

The wisdom of the wise and the wisdom of the wise, who have been in the wilderness, have said, "I am like a people like a seed: I will judge you for a day, and I will not stand still. I said, O God, if it is not in your hand to

And Aphek shall be established among the children of Ammai, and Achenish shall be established from Medina, that thou mayest be free from the hand of the oppressor: and in a time of greatness shall thy mouth be provoked.

And I will be established in the wilderness of Amaia, and I will be destroyed from the tribe of Taman, one by one: As I was destroyed from my father in the wilderness of Ar'a, I will be destroyed from the tribe of Necho, says the Lord God: And I will establish the circumcision of my law, and I will be established in the ordinance of the resurrection, and I will be destroyed from the tribe of Necho, who rebelled and who lied in my judgments. From time to time, I will bring you to time: Israel will not know and know that I am the light, and I will judge the house of Israel as a judge. O God, the man of the house of worship, whose sin has been cut off, his wings have been cut off, and his body has been cut off: Let a servant dwell in the house of worship, and let my holy place be a place of worship, and let no one be left in the midst of it, nor in the midst of it.

I will be in the holy place, in the holy place of Israel, and I will say, O God, Taman will be a prey before me, all the house of the wicked of Israel, their prey in the day of their life. Taman will receive their sacrifice in the wilderness, and Taman will be like a river of fire: and the river of fire will be like a river of fire, and the river of fire will be like a river of fire. It shall be established among the nations, and I will establish it: from Medinah you shall be exalted in glory, and I will sanctify myself in the sight of the nations, and they shall know that I am the Lord. It shall be established for the time of Israel, that you shall stand in my judgments, for it shall be given to the fathers:

Chapter 21

And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.
The Son of Man will receive a prophecy against the east, and a prophet against the south, and a prophet
And Timar said to Horesh, the king of the south, who received a great plague, as did the king of Canaan, saying, O God, I will kindle in thee a fire, and thou shalt kill in thee all the inhabitants of Jabesh. Thou shalt not be afraid of the city of Shelah, which is called Dimashtiya, and all the inhabitants of Aphaia shall be written in it: from the south to the west.
And all the children of Israel shall see my face, and I will not be ashamed: and I will say, O God, accept my transgressions: and they shall say unto me, Is it not a sign, a sign? and it shall be fulfilled, and it shall be with me for a sign.
The Son of Man will be given the prophecy against Jerusalem, and I will be the leader over the sanctuary, and I will prophesy against the people of Israel.
And the LORD said to the people of Israel, "Behold, I will send a sword against you, and I will draw out my sword from your midst. And the banners of your people will be your shields, that you may go out in peace. Therefore you shall draw out my sword from your midst against all the nations of the south: to the west."
And all the children of Bisra shall know that I am the Lord, and my sword shall not return from its birth.
And you, the Son of Man, will sweat bitterly in their eyes.
And the Lord will come to you, saying, "What are you waiting for?" And you will stand on the throne of the Lord. And every heart will melt, and every hand will tremble, and every spirit will faint, and all its chariots will be astonished. "What is this that I am coming to, and it will be fulfilled," says the Lord God. And the Lord will fulfill the prophecy from before, "I am with you for a long time."

And you shall labor as you have labored upon their lips: you shall not be wrapped up, and you shall not be ashamed of the bread of mourning.
And you shall not mourn with your head bowed down, and you shall not weep with your feet bowed down. And you shall be a man to my brother. And Ezekiel shall be strong, and shall be like all my servants, and shall serve me in death, and you shall know that I am God.
And thou, son of man, in that day shall I bring thee out of the house of the sanctuary, the precious thing, the joy of their habitation, the joy of their dwelling, the joy of their thoughts, and the delight of their souls, which is better than their building: and their understanding: in that day shall I be a witness unto thee, that I may hear thee in the wilderness.
In that day your mouth will be opened in the days of the Lord, and you will be fruitful and will no longer be silent, but you will be a blessing to the poor:
and you will know that I am he.

Chapter 25

And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.
:Son of man, prophesy against the children of Ammon, and prophesy against Elihu, and say unto the children of Ammon, They have received a plague, as the LORD hath said, O LORD, when thou saidst, Rejoice, O Israel, and rejoice, O Israel, and rejoice, O Judah, and rejoice, O Israel

Therefore I will give you the children of Midian to Jeruthah, and they shall build you a house of stone, and they shall not build you a house of stone: they shall eat the good of your land, and they shall not spoil your substance: and I will give you plenty to the tribe of Gamaliel, and the children of Ammon to the house of the princes of the flocks of Edom, and you shall know that I am the lion of Kidron, and that I am the lion of Kidron. You have struck with your hand and struck with your foot and you have cursed with every kind of slander: O Israel, behold, I will lift up my hand against you, and I will make you a prey to the nations, and I will bring you out from among the nations: and I will destroy you from your land, and you shall know that I am he: for I said, O God, pass by. Then said Moab and Seir, What have they done more than all the people of Judah? Therefore will I make a covenant with Moab, from their dwellings, from their dwellings, until they have brought forth the joy of the feast of the Lord, and have set up a house for them: they shall set up Baal Meon and their cities.

The children of Kedem shall be a burden to the children of Ammon, and they shall be a burden to the children of Ammon, and they shall be a burden to the children of Ammon in the land of Ammiah. And in Moab I will serve the LORD, and I will know that I am the LORD. O God, I will pass over my servant Edom, in the time of the LORD's anger, and his debt is a burden. And I will repay him from his debt.
So I will judge him. Gods and lions under my power over Edom, and I will bring out from it a man and a terror: and I will bring upon it a whirlwind from the south, and the inhabitants of Dedan shall be slain with the sword.
And I will bring my calamity upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, and they shall be oppressed and oppressed by Edom, as by a plague: and I will be angry, and they shall know my calamity, saith the LORD.
And I said, O God, let the Philistines be destroyed in their own land, and let them be destroyed in the land of Egypt
:To the scepter of the eternal flame, I said, O God, I will lift up my might upon the Philistines, and I will bring forth the people of Israel: I will cause them to depart, and I will destroy the remnant of the sea.
And I will serve in the name of the Lord, the Lord of hosts, in the midst of wrath, and they will know that I am the one who knows my name: in the name of the Lord

Chapter 26

:And it was in the sixth month, when I was twelve years old, that I should go to Jerusalem, and I would I will gather you into a basket, and I will gather you into a basket of peoples: I will gather you into a basket, as a sea gathers water, in the fear of my wrath.

And the bulls of Tyre shall be broken, and they shall be brought low from their glory: and I will gather the dust of it, and give it to the she-goats, and the spies of the plain.
A hunting ground will be like a sea, and I will cut it down with my own hands, says God, and it will be a reproach: for the blind.

And the tents of the Lord shall be destroyed by the sword, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Then said I, O God, I will die upon the throne of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, the son of Zephon, king of the horses, and the chariots, and the horsemen, and the captains, and the people of the sea.

He will make your enemies here in the wilderness, in the desert, he will kill and build your walls like a temple, and he will gather your walls from the sea and build them: they will eat your food in the desert.

And the LORD will destroy your fortress and your greatness with stones, and the horses will trample your feet with iron. They will crush your feet with the sword of the horsemen and the chariots, and they will make your backs tremble with fear. In my high places, in your valleys, like the trees of Kartha, in the valleys of the mountains

With the hooves of the horses he will overtake all your markets, he will kill your people with the sword, and he will destroy the height of your defenses forever.

And thy riches shall be a spoil, and thy gates shall be broken, and thy pleasant places shall be desolate: and thy stones and thy walls shall be broken: and thy dust shall be like the sea: and I will cause the noise of thy singers to cease, and the music of thy harps shall be heard no more.

And I will make you a delight like the valleys of the hunting ground. You shall not be like the mountains of Od, nor shall I be like the mountains of Gezer. In my words, I say, O God, as a judge. I say, O God, to the mountain. Is it not a light thing to fall upon your slain by the sword, that they may be deceived? They shall slay your corpses with the fury of a desolation, and they shall be buried from their thrones, all of them. The great ones of the sea and the purpose of their excellence and the purpose of their beauty: they will send forth a cloud, they will clothe themselves on the earth, they will build and they will be destroyed from before, they will be destroyed and they will be hunted down and they will be cast upon you like Elijah and they will be told to you like the loss of the Lord will come in the body of the Lord, the Lord will come in the midst of the sea And Yathaba, I will make you a slave to the Lord, all Yathaba

:As the fury of the wilderness in the day of thy fall, and the terror of the wilderness in the midst of the sea, in the midst of thy captivity, I will say, O God, I will call thee a desolation, as it is called, and thou shalt not come into my presence: thou shalt bring the peoples of the wilderness into the midst of the earth, and the peoples of the wilderness shall cover thee.

And I will give you as a wife to the land of Nob, to the house of Abadnah, to the people of Ammah, and I will give you as a wife to the land of Arah, to the land of Arah in the wilderness: and I will give you as a wife to the land of Gob, to the house of Abadnah, to the land of Dahl, and you will give joy to the land of Israel: and you will be as I have given you, and so you will be, and you will be judged, and you will never forget, says the Lord God.

Chapter 27

And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.

And you, son of man, will be like Elijah, and you will be like the one who came to the city of Tyre, who was expelled from the regions of the sea, who was filled with darkness, who was blind, who was a teacher of the nations, who was like a prophet: Say, O God of Tyre, you have said, I will blow my trumpet.

: In the waters of your borders, your lands, your children, they have destroyed your cities: From the wilderness of Mesopotamia, your son, you have given all your cedar branches, from Lebanon, we have turned them into a temple of thorns, we have planted them on you.

The helmsmen of your ships, the high ones of your ships, the dolphins of the desert, the elephants, the elephants: the house of Hopa for the theater, the city of Apulia, mud and paintings from Egypt, the Persians for your palace, the city of Tikhla and the purple from the city of Italy, your clothes:

The inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad are Satan, and they have given a horrible death to your people. Your wise men, Tyre, are in your midst, Inon: your Parnassus.

The fathers of Gebal and her wisdom are in your midst, the attacks of your burnings, all the seafarers and their ships are devils and death: the abomination of your nations, the Persians and the Ludites and the Putites, are in your midst, the men of your servants, the mighty men of your armies, the swift and the cunning, are in your midst: they shall not be able to destroy your glory.

The sons of Arvad and all your servants, on your shoulders, are merchants, merchants, and even the Caputkai in your palaces, they are rulers: they are merchants, merchants, merchants, merchants, who have destroyed your wealth: from the sea, a merchant will bring you merchandise for your body, from the shade of all the silver, with iron, wood, and a loss will be in the house of your treasurers.

:Yawan Tuval and Meshech Inon, you shall not be ashamed of your soul, and of the people of Nahash, who have given you a scoundrel for your body: From the land of Germemia, Susan, and Parshin, and from the land of Kodnan, who have given you a scoundrel for your body, the sons of Dedan, you shall be ashamed of your body, the sons of Nagwan, Sagion, who have given you a scoundrel for your body, in the horn of Dialin and the ivory of the elephant. :And I will offer you peacocks as your sacrifices.

From Aram I bring you merchandise for your bodies, your curtains, with embroidered cloth, and clay, with pictures, and with ornaments. It is in the house of your treasure, your merchants, and the Hittites, and the sons of Judah, and the land of Israel, with spices, and with ointments, and with spices: from Damascus I bring you merchandise for your stores. To your nation, in the form of a scepter

Dan and John sing of your songs, they give in the valleys of Barzillai, and they buy perfume in your shops.

From Dedan he gave a scoria to your people, in a garment of thorns to the potions.

Arab and all the great ones of Nebat, Inon, your merchants, in Torin and Dikrin, and Gidin, in Hoan, were your merchants.

And how much more will your enemies not be your enemies, they will not be your enemies in the end, than all your dwellings with the shearing of the cold and the sorcerers of Darza with the divination of this place! You shine like a gift in a compass, a gold clasp, a seal in a lock, a seal in a seal: You are a servant of the sea, a gift in the greatness of the gods, a servant

:With what means shall they exalt thee, and shall despise thy hands, and thy king shall be like the wind of old, and thy servants They will be scattered in the sea on the day of disaster: your slayers

:For the light of your Parnassian cry, the fury of desolation
And they shall cast off from their ships all the oars of the seamen, all the seafarers, upon the day of their coming.
And they shall hear of it in their bitterness, and shall cry out in bitterness, and shall sprinkle dust upon their heads in their bitterness: they shall be thin.
:And they shall mourn for you with a bitter cry, and shall afflict you with a bitter lamentation, and shall weep for you with bitter sorrow.
And they will cast you into the torment of Elijah, and they will cast you into the night, like the night of the blood of the dead in the sea.
In the midst of your merchants, among the peoples, seven nations, in the shade of your robes and your robes, you have made my king.

names on their faces. They will be glad for you, and you will be blessed forever.

Chapter 28

And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.
Son of man, say to the king of the land of Egypt, Say to your heart, "I am sick, O God, and I will pass by you." It is better for you to live in the sea, and you will become a man, and you will have your needs met, and you will think in your heart that you are sick.
:You are wise, O Daniel, and no secret will be revealed to you.
:By your wisdom and your understanding you have acquired wealth, and you have put love and silver in your treasury.
:By your wisdom and by your wisdom your kingdom is established, and your heart is seen in your kingdom:
Therefore I said, O God, go away, you have thought in your heart that you are sick.
Therefore, I, the dead of your tree, will be called the enemies of the people, and they will draw their swords against the restoration of your wisdom: and they will bind your fear with a rope:
your marriage will be like a rope, and you will die like the death of those who carry a sword in the sea.

Chapter 29

In the tenth month of the year, in the year of Asher, in the year of Jerah, the prophecy was fulfilled, which was spoken before, saying, Be with me, and say, Son of man, the prophecy concerning Pharaoh king of Egypt, and concerning the prophets of my name, and concerning the Egyptians of Colhon.
Then the king said to him, "O God, I will send a serpent against Pharaoh king of Egypt, saying, 'In order to give you a great army, I will destroy your kingdom.'" All your rulers with your men will be killed, and I will make you a desert, and all your rulers will be on the nose of a wise man. Your grave will be raised up. You will not be buried or buried for the life of the world, and for the cold of heaven, your legacy will be for a curse.

And all the Egyptians shall know that I am the LORD, and that the house of Israel shall be a prey unto thee: and the house of their enemies shall be destroyed, and their strength shall be broken in pieces, and their strength shall be broken in pieces: and they shall be destroyed, and there shall be no more trouble to the house of the slain.
Therefore I said, O God, I will surely slay thee with the sword, and I will make thee a man: and I will make thee a terror.

And it shall come to pass, that I will pass away, saying, My kingdom is mine: and I will conquer.

Therefore I will send my enemies against you and against your kingdom, and I will make you see the face of the oppressors, to burn its side and its desolation: from the great city of Syene to the border of Ethiopia.
:Do not pass through it with a woman's foot, and do not pass through it with a man's foot, and do not pass through it with a man's foot, and do not go there for forty years.

Teman, Edom's king, and all her princes, whom thou hast destroyed in their might, with the slain of the sword, they shall not be with the living: they shall lie down, and with them under the roof of the house of Abdana.
The people of Zephon, Colhon, and all the Sidonians, will be destroyed by the sword, because of their strength. They will lie down in the wilderness with the slain, and they will receive their inheritance with the slain in the house of Abdana. Pharaoh will be the judge, and he will be comforted for all his fear, the slain in the sword, Pharaoh and all My servants said, "O God, I will remove from the land of Gibeah the mighty one, over his dominion in the land of Aram, and he will lie in the wilderness with the slain of the sword: Pharaoh and all his terrors," said I, "O God."

Chapter 33

And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.
Son of man, I will stir up the hearts of the children of your people, and they will say to you, "Behold, I will see the lions of the high places, and they will slay them in the wilderness, and they will speak: "A people shall see a mighty one, one of their understanding, and they will be a warning to you.
And he shall see the sword of the LORD, and shall blow the trumpet, and warn the people, and they shall hear the sound of the trumpet, and shall not be afraid, and he shall be slain by the sword, and his words shall be for the slain: and his arrows shall be in his hands.
: The sound of the trumpets is heard, and the duty of the slaughterers is not to be feared, and it is the duty of the souls that are to be feared, and it is the duty of the souls that are to be feared, and it is the duty of the souls that is I will follow
And you, son of man, will be a guide to the house of Israel, and you will receive from Memri Pitham, and you will warn them from their sins: before Me

And thou, son of man, say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, As I said unto the house of Israel, The LORD hath spoken, and the Israel, and thou, son of man, say unto the children of thy people, Remember the righteousness of righteousness, thou shalt not forsake it in the day of its judgment: and the debt of a vow shall not be forgiven: it shall be weighed down in the day of its judgment: and the righteous shall not be able to stand in it in the day of its judgment.

In the proverb, "For the memory of a righteous man, he will live, and he will wash himself in his righteousness, and the servant of a lie will not remember all his righteousness: and the servant of a lie will live in the house of death."
"And in the case of a righteous man, he shall die, and he shall be forgiven of his debt, and he shall serve the law of the Lord, and he shall be justified in his pledge. A righteous man shall be given a full ransom in the redemption of his life, and he shall be led by thee, not to a servant of falsehood, but to a living man: and he shall not die."
All my debts are due, so that they may not be delayed, and I will be a servant of the Lord, my life.
And your people will say, "There is no interpreter for us, a way of life that is good enough," and their way of life will not be easy:
:For if a righteous man turn away from his duty and serve a lie, and die in shame, he will be established.
And I said, "No one will interpret for us a sacrifice of good deeds, as a man will, as a sacrifice of the house of Israel, and it will be in the days of the Asherites, in the tenth month, in the fifth month, in the year of Yarsha, for our salvation, and you will come to me from Jerusalem: for the fear of the evil of Karta."
And it was prophesied from the beginning, "You were with me in Ramsha, before the days of Meshizba, and you opened my mouth until the days of Levi: at the trumpet, and I opened my mouth, and you were no longer silent: and the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from the beginning, "You were with me for a long time."
Son of man, the inhabitants of Horbata Ha'Ilan, the mountain of Israel, said to Memar, "You have shot Memar, and we will go to Memar, and I will give Memar to Memar, and I will give Memar to Memar, and I will give Memar to Memar." I said to the people of Kidnan, "O God, I will eat the blood of the righteous, and I will lift up my eyes: I will make your prayer, and I will avenge the blood of the righteous Madman to Meerut and prepare for the time of the work of the Toaiba and the man of Yat, the sign of her friends, the enemy, and the Arah of Atun: Madman to Meerut, as if it were a curse, as if it were a curse,

My people have sinned in all the ways of the Torah, and on all the mountains of the wilderness, and on all the hills of the wilderness, my people have been deceived, and my people have been deceived in the night of my trial, and in the night of my trial, in the night of my trial, in the day of my trial, they have received my judgment.

I said, "O God, if my people do not pass by in disgrace, and if you do not deliver my people to be an object of ridicule to all the kingdoms of the earth, then I will not seek a paradise for my people, and I will not seek a paradise for my soul. And my people will not seek a paradise

And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.
The Son of Man will receive a prophecy about the Torah of De'Sher, and you will prophesy from above.
And it shall be said unto him, O God, I will send a rod against thee, O king of the mountains, and against the lions: I will strengthen thee, and will put thee by his side, and will destroy thee.
:Call thee, O Horvath, and thou shalt be by his side, and know that I am he, O Lord, that I will make thee a prey to everlasting defilements, and thou shalt be a prey unto the children of Israel by the hands of them that are slain by the sword. In time thou shalt be justified: in time thou shalt be satisfied with their debt, for they are alive. I have said, O God, that I will slay thy servants, and they shall slay them by the sword that pursue thee. If not: He will pursue you: And I will give you a Torah scroll, a seal, and I will send out a message from him, even to the people of Judah.
:And I will make my Torah my slain, my Ramah my slain, and my army and all my enemies the slain of the sword shall be scattered abroad: I will make your name known forever, and your name shall not be forgotten, and you shall know that I am the one who passes away, as you said, "You shall teach the peoples, and you shall judge their ways, and they shall be angry, and you shall go before me, O Galilean, thinking: for it is so. I said, O God, I will serve you as your anger and as your wrath, and you will serve me as your anger and as your wrath, and you will be my servant. I will be your servant

And they boasted against me with their words of praise, and they boasted against me with their deeds of praise. My ancestors heard it. Thus I said, O God, as I am with all the nations, I will serve you.
As you have said concerning the house of Israel, "The house of Israel is a place of worship, so I will make you a place of worship, and you will be a place of worship for all of Israel."

Chapter 36

And you, the Son of Man, will be placed on the walls of Israel, and the walls of Israel will receive a curse. For I said, "O God, let this pass." I said, "Sanaa, let me be a place of joy, and the eternal height of Jerusalem will be ours."
Therefore I will turn away and say, "As for me, I will turn away and say, 'My God, I will turn away and say, "My God, I will turn away and say, ' Torah and to Ramah, to Pazidiah and to Hili, to Harbat Zadok and to Karva, to Shebaka, to Havok and to Laab, to Shaara: to the people, to the merchants

Therefore I said, O God, if you had not cut off my wife, my wife, by my decrees, upon the fear of the Lord, and upon the Edomites, the pride of the people, then I would have made the house of my dwelling a treasure, a treasure for the joy of every heart, with the joy of every soul: instead of her being spoiled for a spoil.
Therefore I will turn my face toward the land of Israel, and I will say to Torah, and to Ramah, and to Pazidiah, and to Hilkiah, as to the land of Canaan, saying, O God, I am in the midst of thee, and I will cut off thyself from the midst of thee, and Therefore I will judge, O God, and will keep my word, if I do not despise my people, they will be filled with shame: they will not be filled with shame, they will be filled with shame. :I am the one who reveals the truth and I will turn my back on my words to be good, to be ready, and to flourish and to flourish.
And the children of Elichon shall gather together all the house of Israel, and they shall build the city of Karvaiah, and the city of Harbat shall be built.
And I will gather together the people, and they shall fear, and be afraid, and be afraid: and I will gather them together as before, and I will be good: as before, and they shall know that I am he. And I will gather together the people, and my people Israel, and I will store them up, and they shall be a treasure to store up, and shall not add more to their burden: for I said, O God, change your words. Because you kill men and bereave your people, you will bereave them no more: therefore you shall not kill men any more, and your people no more, says the Lord God.
And I will hear thee no more the supplications of the people, and the mercies of the people shall not be accepted, neither shall thy people be deceived: yet saith the Lord God.
And the Lord fulfilled the prophecy from before: Be with me for a while.
The son of man, the house of Israel, shall understand concerning the feast, and his round about shall be in his sacrifice, and in his iniquity as a veil: thou shalt give a filthiness, which was the former sacrifice: and thou shalt pour out my blood upon them for the blood of the righteous, that I may atone for the feast, and for the sin of their iniquity, and cover it.
